KILLED IN COTTON PRESS .- News has reached Forest, Miss., of a remarkable occurence at Lemons Postoffice, Smith county. A young man about 17 years old, whose surname is Bailey, was literally compressed in a bale of cotton at the steam gin of John Glaze. Young Bailey was employed by Mr. Glaze to work at the gin. Last Saturday about noon Bailey, who assisted in packing cotton, either accidentally fell in the press or jumped in before enough cotton had been placed at the bottom to prevent the courtom had been placed at the bottom to prevent the courtom had been placed at the bottom to prevent with ginnary with ginnary and the child was relieved." For sale injury, the custom being with ginners to first pack the cotton in the press by to first pack the cotton in the press by tramping before running the heavy blocks down upon it. It is supposed that Bailey in falling or jumping into the press, must have struck in such a manner as to become insensible. Others were assisting him in putting the cotton in the press, but, strange to say, no oue saw him descend. He was missed before the bale was finished in packing, but it was supposed that he had gone to saw him descend. He was missed before the bale was finished in packing, but it was supposed that he had gone to the well for water. After the press had been filled the belting was replaced upon the machinery and the cotton compressed by steam with a force which must have equaled many tons. The doors of the press were knocked open preparatory to putting on the ties and sewing the bagging, when what was supposed to be a shoe heel and sole were seen in the side of the bail. The press was run down in order to relieve the pressure, after which the discovery was made that a man was compressed in the cotton. The bale was hurriedly torn to pieces, and Bailey was taken out crushed almost beyond recognition. His head and face were crushed and black from the pressure, and he could only be identified by his hair and clothing.

Deserted by Circusman.—Last summer when Sig. Sautell's circus which exhibited in Alexandria last month was at Plattsburg, N. Y., one of the most interested spectators was May Lennon, a charming girl of 16 years. That performance of the circus was the beginning of a sad romance for May which had its interested spectators was May Lennon, a charming girl of 16 years. That per-formance of the circus was the beginning of a sad romance for May which had its formance of the circus was the beginning of a sad romance for May which had its ending in the local department of charities in New York Monday. May admirded a horseback rider, named Watson. It was a case with her of love at first sight. That evening old farmer Lennon and his family drove home in a dejected and unhappy mood. They had lost May in the crowd and had not been able to find her, and they did not know how she could evergethome again. That was the last they heard of the girl until Monday when she asked if she could come home window open Sunday 900 a. m. and 630 p. m.

May refused to go with the circus until she was married to the bareback rider, and so the marriage was performed that very night, and May en-tered into the circus life with visions of a bright future before her. The circus after leaving Alexandria went to Annapolis, Md., and broke up at Havre de Grace, Md., for the winter the mid-de Grace, Md., for the winter the middle of last month, Watson then took his bride to Baltimore, where they remained until last week. Failing to find work, he carried her to Brooklyn and then deserted her. After suffering the pangs of hunger for two days, she applied to the Department of Charities.

Belleved to be Work of Assassin.

Following the assassination on October 26 of President Sagouni and two other members of the Huntchagist society in Loudon; two other assassinations in Russia, a sixth in Cairo, Egypt, and an attempted assassinations in Boston and Lausanne, Switzerland, it is believed by Chicago Armenians that Roopen Dyeian was murdered Tuesday morning: his home in that city. Sunday morning and Monday night the family who occupy the flat above was awakened by a man making a noise on the stairs. In each case the man said that he had made a mistake and left the doorway. Sunday morning the man was found in the hallway at the man was found in the man wa and left the doorway. Sunday morning the man was found in the hallway at about 12:30 o'clock, and Monday night he again appeared at 11 o'clock. Who the man was no one knew. The circumstance leads some of the Armenians to believe that he was the assassin who turned on the gas which caused the death of the younger leader. Until 1895 the Huntchagists worked in harmony. At that time a faction led by Alfar was actthat time a faction led by Alfar was acting as a spy for the Sultan. Since that time they have been fighting and within the flast month several of the younger section of the party have been assassinated. It is reported that the society had headquarters in Boston, and had sent agents through the country to murder their antagonists.
